“Endless possibilities with individual stainless steel production”

IMAGINOX POOLS is the core company of IMAGINOX specializing in stainless steel swimming pools, whirlpools, and wellness products with a sense of modern design. Precise high-tech production and the nature of stainless steel material give endless possibilities to any wellness project design based on the individual needs and wishes of the client. We can create a pool of standard or unique shape, for massage or swimming, for a skyscraper terrace or family garden, with glass walls... Always based on your imagination.

“Feelings that cannot be described other than by your own experience”

TAO is our producer of saunas and steam cabins with exclusive quality. The values the company stands for are modern and tasteful design, precise production, the possibility to adapt to any space, and a wide range of materials, designs, and thought-out accessories. Each sauna cabin is designed individually, starting with planning, production, and implementation with respect to the space and visions of our customers. We respect traditional handmade craftsmanship and the essence of working with quality natural materials – the harmony of a sophisticated design and natural peace that you can feel in every TAO sauna.

“Get the sensation of an exclusive lifestyle with luxury movable pool floors”

Covering is always an essential part of every pool. With AQUAFLOORS, this becomes not only practical but also a functional and luxurious addition to your household in every aspect. Our designs provide you with a pool for sports activities, a place for relaxation and peace of mind, a play area for the whole family, and a space for a dinner party with your friends in one place. AQUAFLOORS automatic moving pool floors are the most exclusive option for your swimming pool and stand out by their outstanding design and innovative technology.

“Individual solutions of places that promote your overall well-being”

Wellness design is not just about selling high-quality products. It also involves careful consideration of the architectural design of a space and the creation of a relaxing atmosphere that can be felt by individuals. Since 1997, AQUAMARINE SPA has excelled in wellness planning and project solutions, offering exclusive, high-quality products and services. Our team of experienced designers, engineers, and project planners is dedicated to providing personalized solutions for both private and commercial clients.
